Union Ranks At All Time High, 16.2 Millions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO said today it swelled the ranks of organized labor by about 1 million members in the past three years, reversing seven lean years of declining membership.

Latest figures show that AFL-CIO unions broke all recent yearly records for organizing success in fiscal 1966, the big labor federation reported.

Membership has "continued to move upward" in the five months since the end of the fiscal year, a spokesman said.

The gains bring a total membership of the AFL-CIO's 120 unions to a record high of approximately 13.5 million, the spokesman said.

Approximately 2.7 million more workers belong to independent unions not affiliated with the AFL-CIO.

The new evidence of steadily advancing membership eases one of the chief worries of many labor leaders that unions were losing ground in the growing and rapidly changing economy.

The number of "blue collar" factory workers has dropped sharply in recent years, but the over-all gains indicate labor success in signing up white collar office workers and employees in the expanding service trades.

The AFL-CIO noted the gain of almost 244,000 members in fiscal 1966 followed "sharp gains" in 1964 and 1965.

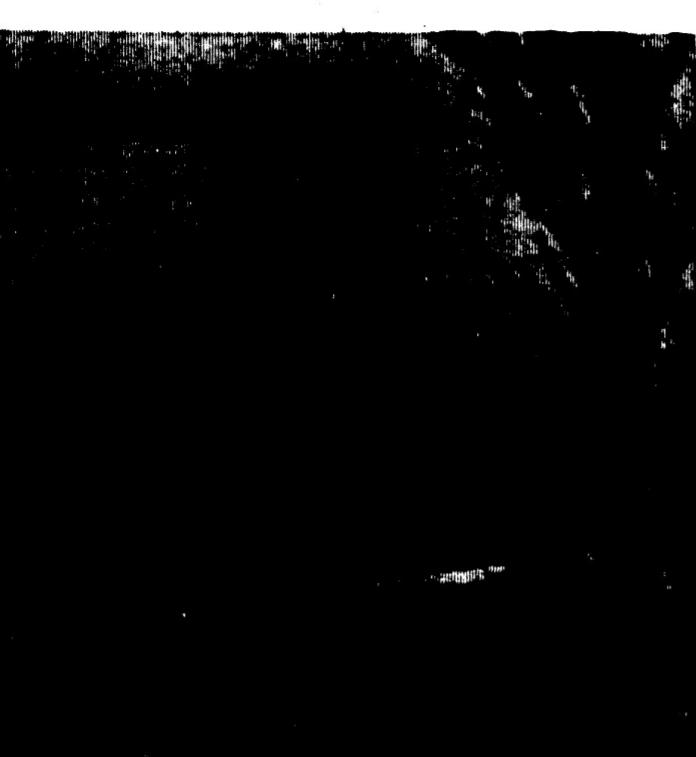

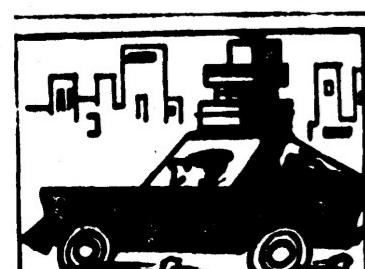

The figures are based on employed, dues-paying workers — excluding workers on strike and retired members, which many unions often use to fatten official membership figures.

The three-year rise brought total membership up from 12.4 million members in 1963, the lowest point since 1955 when the federation was formed in the merger of the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

Thanksgiving Toll On Roads Is 748

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's traffic deaths during the extended Thanksgiving weekend reached an all-time record for the holiday of 748.

The total surpassed the previous record high of 720 for a holiday set in the three-day Christmas weekend of 1965. The count of deaths in traffic accidents during the four-day Thanksgiving weekend covered a period of 102 hours, from 6 p.m. (local time) Wednesday to midnight Sunday.

Cong Ambushes S. Viet Convoy; Third In Week

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U. S. and South Vietnamese commands reported 75 Communists killed in small skirmishes in the past 24 hours as the lull in ground fighting in the Viet Nam war continued for the third day. Continuing foul weather once again slowed the U. S. air offensive.

The U. S. command reported 53 enemy killed in more than a dozen patrol contacts. The South Vietnamese headquarters said their forces killed 22 Communists in three small engagements.

Vietnamese headquarters also reported that a Viet Cong force ambushed a 17-vehicle Vietnamese military convoy this morning on its way to the mountain city of Dalat, causing some casualties.

The ambush 90 miles northeast of Saigon was the third in the DaLat area in less than a week. There were no details on the number of government casualties or damage inflicted to the convoy.

U. S. Air Force B-52 bombers returned to the central highlands near Cambodia today and struck at North Vietnamese troop concentrations 35 miles northwest of Pleiku.

Sources at the Pentagon in Washington said about 20 more of the big bombers have joined the 30-plane fleet based on Guam, and the U. S. command plans to step up bombing raids against Communist troop concentrations and supply areas.

U. S. pilots flew only 38 bombing missions over North Viet Nam Monday as the monsoon rains and low clouds continued into the third week. Five of the raids were against North Vietnamese positions in the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam.

American pilots flew 311 strike sorties over South Viet Nam Monday and South Vietnamese pilots flew 162. A U. S. Army helicopter gunship downed 10 miles northeast of Saigon, and two Americans were killed.

National Airlines' Pilots Set Strike

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A union spokesman said today 98 percent of National Airlines' 426 pilots have voted to strike if a satisfactory contract is not signed before Dec. 15.

Robert Rohan, chairman of the National Pilots' Master Executive Council, says the pilots will have been working without a contract for a year on Dec. 15.

The union is demanding improved wages, working conditions and pensions, Rohan said. The Miami-based line operates up and down the east coast and west to New Orleans, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Main Roads To Be Cleared By This Afternoon

By The Associated Press
The U.S. Weather Bureau predicted some relief today from the heavy snow and gales that stranded more than 1,000 persons, closed roads and schools and disrupted electric service to 10,000 homes in upper Michigan Monday.

Detroit weather officials said snow in western and northern Michigan would diminish, but warned of heavy drifting and blowing in the northeastern part of the state.

As the storm moved eastward Monday night it deposited one inch of snow on metropolitan Detroit.

Drifts Block U. S. 2

Sixteen inches were reported by nightfall around the Marquette area. Drifts ranging to five and six feet high blocked U. S. 2, a main route along the bottom of Michigan's Upper Peninsula, and U. S. 41, between Skandia and Ishpeming, was open to one lane traffic only.

More than 180 persons remained overnight on the carferry, City of Midland, which ran onto a channel sand bar at Ludington Harbor.

The snow stranded some 22 cars and seven buses near Engadine in the southern part of the Upper Peninsula Sunday night and Monday morning. Some 500 persons took refuge in the Engadine town hall.

About 400 of the stranded motorists were students en route back to Michigan Technological University at Houghton, returning from the Thanksgiving holiday.

Another 200 were sheltered at Escanaba where six inches of snow were reported, and 100 spent the night in a National Guard armory at Manistique.

John Kolf, a Detroit 22-year-old, said his carload of six students from southern Michigan arrived at the armory about 2:30 a.m. Monday.

"We got maybe two hours of sleep," he said.

They were stranded again Monday afternoon near Marquette while snow plows cleared the roads.

A Northern Michigan University student James Justus of Milwaukee, took a long, cold night in his car near Marquette.

He and five friends started out from their homes at 3:30 p.m. Sunday. About 2:30 a.m. they came upon "about 100 cars backed up on the road."

"We had to stop," Justus said. "Luckily some of us had goodies from home, so we had enough food."

The roads were clear by 11 a.m., but it took the students another four hours to get through the snow-covered roads to Marquette.

Several bus drivers opened their heated buses for stranded motorists.

Share Revenues

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said the GOP will keep plugging for a sharing of federal revenues with the states even if federal spending is cut and taxes raised.

Dr. Leon H. Keyserling, who was economic adviser to former President Harry S. Truman, said in a Denver, Colo., speech that "holding back the economy to restrain inflation, rather than stimulating the economy, seems palpably wrong to me."

Britain Nears Rhodesia Break

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson sent high-level envoys to Washington and Salisbury today seeking U.S. backing for possible economic sanctions against Rhodesia while still searching for a compromise with its white minority government.

Wilson met with his Cabinet but held off making a final decision on whether to break with Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith.

Sir Morrice James, who has played a key role in talks with Smith, flew to Salisbury for further clarification of Smith's position on ways to guarantee progress toward African majority rule.

The sounds of cries from the infant declared her to be free from the respiratory difficulty which claimed the lives of her four sisters within 24 hours of their birth Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Aranson, both 22.

Doctors said Roni Sue's survival past the 72-hour mark — at 2:41 a.m. today — ended her first crisis.

"We've got a lot of hurdles, and this is just the big one," said Dr. Lee Bass, chief of pediatrics at Magee-Women's Hospital.

The quintuplets were born 2½ months prematurely to Patti Aranson, an attractive, 5-foot 2, 104-pound blonde.

Roni Sue weighed one pound, 12 ounces at birth. Like the others, she was placed immediately in a heated, glass-enclosed incubator.

Bass said the mother took the death of her children "as well as could be expected."

The parents "are anxious to get one live baby and are praying," he said.

Show Beats '65

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Auto Show drew 15,201 people Monday, to put total attendance for the show at 106,141, officials said. Attendance is 25 per cent ahead of last year's figures.

Today's Chuckle

One good thing about the new math — it keeps the children from finding out how little their parents know about the old.

Blustery weather hit areas across the lower Great Lakes region and into the eastern states. Cold air dipped into parts of the Southwest.

Storm Moves East

Up to 3 inches of snow fell in sections of northern Ohio and western New York State in a six-hour period during the night.

Five inches of snow earlier had been reported in McKean County in northwestern Pennsylvania and six inches fell in a storm in western New York Monday.

Seven inches of snow covered the Great Smoky Mountains of Tennessee, with 4 inches reported at Newfound Gap on the Ten-

Bonus Days For April Tax Filing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 15 deadline falls on a Saturday. In such cases, IRS usually gives taxpayers until the next business day to submit returns.

The biggest change in the upcoming filing period will be in the handling of the returns by the government.

And the Internal Revenue Service said it should be easier for the more than 65 million individual taxpayers to complete their returns next year because the few changes made in the tax form should simplify matters, not complicate them.

Changes made by Congress this year in tax laws will have no effect on the new tax forms.

For example, the new law which permits taxpayers to divert $1 of their tax — $2 for married couples filing joint returns — to a presidential campaign fund doesn't go into effect for another year.

The form to be filed out in early 1968 for 1967 taxes will include a small box to be checked by the taxpayer if he wants to do this.

Even if Congress should raise taxes early next year, the new forms would be unaffected. The forms filled out in early 1967 are for this year's taxes.

Next Business Day

The two-day filing bonus results because the normal April taxes are based on the approximate mileage covered in a year and the amount of a state's gasoline tax.

List Schedule For Club 314

The facilities at Club 314 will be available to adults of the community on Wednesday nights from 6:30 to 9:30, it was announced by the Recreation Department today. College-age youngsters are also welcome to attend on Wednesday evenings, but boys and girls in junior or senior high school are limited to attending on Monday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday.

Interested adults have a choice of the following activities: golf putting practice, volleyball, basketball, heavy bag punching, Speed bag punching, badminton, rope skipping, television viewing, dancing, billiards, ping pong, and general physical fitness.

The weekly schedule for Club 314 follows:

MONDAY—Grades 8 through 12.

TUESDAY—Elderly Citizens.

WEDNESDAY—College-age boys and girls and adults.

THURSDAY—Grades 8 through 12.

FRIDAY—Grades 8 through 12.

SATURDAY—Grades 7 through 12.

Postmen Payless; Data Center Goof

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—To 300 Christmas season postal workers who haven't been paid here, there was the knowledge that the mixup had been accomplished in the most modern way.

Their first paychecks, due last Friday, failed to make it through the Automated Postal Data Center at San Mateo. The center handles payrolls for California, Nevada, Hawaii and the Pacific Islands.

"The center apparently couldn't handle the sudden rush of new work," said Charles Harper, San Francisco Post Office executive, who indicated the rest of the region might have been affected as well.

Joseph Leone, acting president of the United Federation of Post Office Clerks, Local 2, said the seasonal workers probably won't be paid until next year.

Escanaba Gains In Air Traffic

Passenger volume at the Escanaba airport continues to make relatively modest gains, doing better than Ironwood and Menominee-Marquette but not as well as Marquette and Iron Mountain.

North Central Airlines, which serves the region with scheduled air service, reported that Marquette leads the Upper Peninsula in the volume of air passenger traffic—with Ironwood at the bottom among the five U.P. cities.

The comparison of passenger traffic is on an average daily figure for the period from June 30, 1965, through June 30, 1966. Marquette climbed to 40,94, up 8.4% for first place. Others in order were:

Iron Mountain 26,72 up 4.3%; Escanaba 18,87, up 3.3%; Marquette—Menominee 16,34, up 2.2%; Ironwood 14,68, up 1.6%.

Sprint Upward

The statistics do not fully reflect the situation as it exists, for the Escanaba area does supply (because of the North Central scheduling) a considerable volume of passengers who board the plane at Iron Mountain. This builds the Iron Mountain volume—but Iron Mountain supplies few if any passengers to Escanaba.

Marquette's continuing air passenger growth is supported by a larger population than any other U.P. area, plus the presence of Northern Michigan University and nearby K. I. Sawyer Air Base.

After a slow summer at Escanaba, when North Central's passenger volume actually declined during July and August, there was a strong come-back in passenger traffic in September and October.

For example, the July passenger totals were 1178 a year ago to 1159 for the same month this year; and August was down this year to 1161 from 1292 a year ago.

September, however, came back strong with the number of North Central Airline passengers increasing from 1082 to 1229; while October's gain was even greater—from 1072 to 1328.

Serve Two Lines

Looking to the future and anticipated gain in air traffic at the Escanaba airport, North Central Airlines has submitted to the city suggestions for "upgrading" the facilities there—primarily the extension of runways.

"Many of the recommendations will be taken care of in our proposed airport expansion and improvement program," said City Manager George Harvey.

The airport is also to serve another scheduled airline—newly organized Peninsula Air Transport of Escanaba—beginning in January. An agreement that will be mutually satisfactory is now being prepared, the city manager said.

Peninsula Air Transport will initially serve the central and eastern U.P. and will "bridge" Lake Michigan with scheduled flights to the Lower Peninsula.

The proposed agreement between the city and the airline will be presented to the Council for consideration soon, said Harvey.

Industrial Park Street Named

GLADSTONE — The main thoroughfare in the Gladstone Industrial Park will be called Raina Drive in memory of the late R. J. Raina of Gladstone who bequeathed the city $4,000 for the benefit of the city.

The City Commission took action to name one of three streets being platted when they met in short session without agenda Monday night.

Names for the two remaining streets will be selected at the next regular meeting, Dec. 12. The Commission also voted to offer Bay de Noc Community College city-owned property in the east end or on the bluff as a possible site for future extension or relocation of the college.

Seven Pay Fines For Conservation Law Violations

Seven men have paid a total of $147.50 in fines and costs and an eighth posted $100 bond for appearance later when arraigned on conservation violations before Justice A. J. Mortier of Gladstone.

Officers said Robert A. Chenier, 24, of Rte. 1, Gladstone, was released on $100 bond after he pleaded innocent to a charge of attempting to locate deer with an aid of an artificial light.

Chenier was arrested by conservation officers on a warrant issued by Mortier for an offense which allegedly took place Nov. 11. Date for trial was not set.

John F. Musick, 53, of Rock Island, Ill., paid a $35 fine and $7.30 costs after pleading guilty to a charge of possessing a shotgun loaded with slugs in a deer area without a deer license.

Joseph F. Henek, 19, Lawrence J. Kissel, 17, and Stanley M. Lewinski, 18, all of Chicago, each paid $20 fines and costs after pleading guilty to a charge of possessing loaded rifles in a motor vehicle; Martin Kalhoun, 28, Wayne, paid $15 for possessing an uncased gun in a motor vehicle, and George A. Chailier, 33, of Rte. 1, Escanaba, and Alfred R. Chailier, 44, Marquette, each were assessed $15 for failing to validate deer tags.

Average Deer Hunt In District Indicated

Conservation officials in the Escanaba District report belief that it had an "average" deer kill in the season which ended Sunday evening.

The district includes Marquette and Delta counties and the west half of Alger.

The deer hunt still is open below the Straits of Mackinac. It closes there Sunday, Dec. 4.

Conservation officers said that it still was too early to know accurately the results of the hunt in the Upper Peninsula because all the data have not been collected and processed, but they offered some impressions, subject to correction when all the information is in.

The consensus of conservation officers was that it was an "average" season in the district. This opinion covers a spread of hunter reaction which ranges from "poor" to "our camp filled up." Some hunters said that they not only didn't see any deer; that they didn't even see any tracks. Others said that they had seen more deer than usual.

Fewer Hunters

The number of hunters in the district and in the Upper Peninsula region were both belowed down somewhat on the basis of field interviews with hunters and the count of north-bound hunters at the Mackinac Bridge. Some areas, however, including the Whitefish River area in Delta County, reported more hunters this year.

The weather was "mostly good," with tracking snow in the north from the beginning of the season. The first week's weather was mostly good and it encouraged hunters to get out in the woods and is believed to have contributed to the deer kill. The last week of the hunt didn't have as good weather and the kill fell proportionately. Deep snow in the northern part of the district restricted travel in some areas.

Up to 7 a.m. Monday the count of animals taken south over the Mackinac Bridge was 10,038 deer and 165 bears compared with 10,841 deer and 102 bears in the same period a year ago. This lower deer kill and larger bear kill indicated small change in hunt success because of the smaller number of hunters involved.

Fewer Permits

Antlerless deer hunting permits were down 14 per cent in the Upper Peninsula compared with last year.

Of 3,000 deer checked by conservation officers at the Mackinac Bridge, 47 per cent were antlerless, compared with 50 per cent in 1965 so the antlerless kill was down.

One of the major findings of the hunt survey was that the kill of one and a half year old bucks, which normally compose the biggest age group in the kill, had dropped. This was forecast by game biologists as a result of the hard winter of 1964-65 resulting in a small fawn crop in the spring of 1965.

The data on antler points and beam have not been processed, but officers said there seemed to be a better run of racks than last year.

More Permits

There were many complaints about the new deer tag, which is a paper to be punched out and attached to a foreleg of the deer. Many hunters complained that dragging deer tore off the tag and others said that mice and squirrels ate the tags. Some said they were illegible.

There weren't as many complaints about doe shooting. Some hunters get an antlerless deer permit and don't use it as their "contribution" to saving the deer herd. They don't accomplish anything but conversation because the state issues antlerless deer permits in relation to the number of deer that must be dropped off to keep the herd healthy through the winter. When hunters don't use permits the state increases the number issued. It gives out as many as 8 in some areas to get one deer killed.

The snow is believed to have quieted complaints about no deer. The hunters could see their tracks, even if they couldn't see the deer.

Mackinaw To Aid German Freighter Aground On Huron

ALPENA (AP) — The grounded German freighter Nordmeer sent out an SOS today for help to remove the eight seamen aboard.

The Nordmeer, aground since Nov. 19, is being battered by winds and heavy seas on Lake Huron.

The Coast Guard Cutter Mackinaw was dispatched to the scene 12 miles northeast of Thunder Bay Island. Another unidentified vessel reportedly had to give up a rescue effort because of high seas and winds.

The SOS was sent out at 3:35 a.m. Shortly afterwards, communications broke off.

The Coast Guard Rescue Coordination Center at Cleveland, Ohio, asked Michigan State Police to stand by on the mainland.

The eight men were left aboard to tend the Nordmeer after she went aground. The other members of the crew of about 40 men were flown to Germany.

Burundi King Is Overthrown

BRUNELLES (AP) — The Belgian radio reported today that the monarchy was overthrown Monday night in the tiny central African kingdom of Burundi and a republic proclaimed.

The report said Premier Michel Micrombo, an army captain, seized the property of the 19-year-old king, Ntare V, while the king was in the neighboring Congo attending the celebration of the first anniversary of President Joseph Mobutu's regime.

Seat For China UN Vote Today

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly was expected to hold the line again today against seating Red China. A plan to turn the issue over to a U.N. study group was given an even chance of approval.

Delegates predicted that the U.S. request for a two-thirds vote on the representation question would pass again and kill any chance of seating Peking this year.

There was speculation that an Italian proposal to have a special U.N. committee study the question for a year might carry, opening the way for a solution to the 16-year-old stalemate.

The Italian plan is seen as a long-range maneuver to seat both the Communist and Nationalist Chinese regimes in the United Nations. Although the resolution avoids any mention of the two-China idea, it urges a solution that would take "into account the existing situation and the political realities of the area."

The China debate lacked its usual steam this year, due mainly to the worsening dispute between the Soviet Union and Red China and a three-way split among the Western nations over how to break the stalemate.

During seven days of discussion preceding the balloting, most of the speeches on both sides were apathetic.

CHICAGO (AP) — The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals denied Monday a rehearing to James R. Hoffa, Teamsters union president, of his conviction of mail fraud conspiracy in 1964.

Hoffa and six co-defendants were convicted by a jury July 26, 1964, off diverting $1 million from the union's pension fund. Judge Richard H. Austin of U.S. District Court sentenced Hoffa to five years in prison and fined him $10,000.

Xmas Savings Gain $36,488

Christmas Savings Clubs in Delta County banks paid off $36,488.50 more this season than a year ago to help Christmas shoppers with their holiday financing.

The banks sent out Savings Club checks totaling $498,416.50 this year. The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce reports, compared with $461,928 in 1965.

The construction of these buildings was financed through the Federal Housing Authority and provides low rental housing for the retired and for low income families.

At the present time both facilities are fully occupied and there is a waiting list for any future vacancies.

Great Man

John A. Hannah was honored recently at Lansing on his 25th anniversary as president of Michigan State University.

More than that of any other one man, State today in all its enormity is a reflection of John Hannah.

When John Hannah went to State it was a cow college nicknamed "Moo U" and it had six thousand students. Today it has nearly 40,000 students and the value of its campus establishment has risen from $15 million to more than $280 million.

Hannah was the son of a Grand Rapids poultry farmer and he grew up on the family poultry farm, attended Grand Rapids Junior College and the University of Michigan and was graduated from State — then the Michigan Agricultural College — in 1923.

He gained reputation in the depression as a poultry specialist under the National Recovery Act program but left government service to return to MSU in 1935 as secretary to the Michigan Board of Agriculture, now MSU's Board of Trustees. Hannah wed Sarah Shaw, daughter of the president, Robert S. Shaw, and in 1941 he was named president to succeed his father-in-law.

The testimonial dinner for the Hannahs loaded them with gifts and honors. There were messages from Presidents Truman, Eisenhower and Johnson, citing his services to the nation in development of the Point 4 Program, in aiding integration of the armed forces and other humanist achievements as assistant secretary of defense for manpower and as chairman of the Civil Rights Commission.

Governor Romney said that his growth as an individual had made possible the growth of State. Certainly it influenced it strongly. He is the strong leader type who took over at East Lansing at a time when the cow colleges were changing. He gave State a dynamic program of physical growth and the setting for a future of intellectual leadership.

Lower Michigan's agricultural leadership is only one of the achievements of State. It helped the Upper Peninsula with its Extension system and if the result has not been complete, we dread to think of what we'd be like without it.

John Hannah is going to be honored by having the new MSU administration building named for him and there are to be a series of professorial chairs named for him. From having "captured" State, he has been captured by it and he finds it very difficult to let go now. His service is extended to keep him at the helm and the "chickens" of this great man continue to come home to roost.

There have been all sorts of explanations why State shouldn't have a college of medicine but it's going right along with development of one and in this, as in so many other things, John Hannah will probably be vindicated by time.

For a "farmer" whose only earned degree is in poultry husbandry he has displayed both a great humanity and a great ability at organization of educational enterprise. His own life is a great lesson in schooling, which sets out today to certify students as being capable of doing something. Life certifies only that some do things and this is beyond academic indication. John Hannah has seen the power structure of MSU change drastically from a rural-oriented college board to a labor-oriented university board, but he has retained his usefulness and kept the university serving a broad, expanding front.

He has turned down several major efforts to get him to give his talents to political office and has made MSU his lifework, with very impressive results. Educational experts say that it is unlikely that when Hannah retires he will be succeeded by an administrator of his own strength; that the historic patterning for such situations is for a strong university president to be followed by a weaker one in a period in which the dean's exercise more authority until the cyclic process builds up another strong leader.

Michigan is the "Automobile State" in the nation's eye, but here is a man whose shadow stretches from East Lansing all the way to Keweenaw and he isn't in the automobile business. (They gave him a 1967 Ford Bronco pickup at the testimonial dinner for his farms at Good Hart.)

Whim Crises Cause

By RAY CROMLEY
SOUTH VIET NAM—(NEA) —The man was one of Prime Minister Nguyen Cao Ky's close advisers and he was angry. A general had attempted to arrest him because of personal differences of opinion and remove them from their posts.

"He sent officers to Premier Ky's own offices to take me. But I am not so easy to arrest."

The general had no warrant and no legal basis for the attempted arrest. But he's one of the dozen most powerful generals in South Viet Nam and he can usually do what he wants.

This time he wasn't successful.

This arresting without warrant and on whom is back of Ky's current cabinet crisis in which seven ministers have threatened to resign.

Though Ky is the prime minister, he isn't back of the arrests. Some of his close friends are victims. But powerful generals in the coalition take advantage of their strength and take the law into their own hands.

This deep and uneasy problem may haunt the government and the war effort for months to come.

It won't be solved by Ky's accepting the resignations of all seven unhappy cabinet ministers or his persuading all or part of them to carry on.

One deputy cabinet minister recently was arrested under such illegal circumstances. His advisers have a solution for this problem except to hold on will of one general, not off a precariously until there can be a shock wave of fear among elections, which hopefully will provide a government and uphold safeguards of personal liberty.

Michigan's Protestantism Marking Sesquicentennial

Escanaba's First Presbyterian Church observed its centennial in this year in which Michigan Protestant churches are observing their sesquicentennial their 150th anniversary.

The Protestant faith traces its beginning in Michigan to Aug. 8, 1816, when the First Evangelical Society of Detroit was organized.

The society authorized a committee of three Detroiters made up of Gov. Lewis Cass, H. J. Hunt and James Abbott to engage the Rev. John Monteith to serve as the society's first minister.

In May, 1817, a petition was presented to Cass and the judges of Michigan Territory for a plot of ground. In 1819, the society was granted a tract at the corner of present-day Woodward and Larned in Detroit.

Mr. Monteith was succeeded at First Presbyterian in 1835 by the Rev. Noah Wells. Mr. Wells was still preaching an occasional sermon in 1871 at the age of 91.

The Rev. George Duffield of New York assumed the pastorate in 1838 and was minister until 1865, when he was replaced by the Rev. William A. McCorkle.

Mr. Duffield was a favorite at First Presbyterian and continued to preach until his death in 1868.

A church history says of him: "He died with his harness on."

In the ornate prose of the period, the history, published in the Old Detroit Post, said:

"While addressing the Young Men's International Christian Convent, just then assembled in Detroit, in words of welcome, from the churches of the city, he was stricken down, and carried home by his friends to die."

The present First Presbyterian Church at Woodward and Edmund Place was constructed in 1891 during the to 30,000 last year.

All this occurred while Michigan was still an Indian-inhabited wilderness, except for the frontier town of Detroit, small settlements at Pontiac, Flint, Saginaw and Benton Harbor, and a fur-trading station at the Straits of Mackinac. Michigan became a state in 1837, more than a decade later.

Mr. Monteith who remained at the church until 1821, and the Rev. Father Gabriel Richard were co-founders of the University of Michigan, then located in Detroit. The school was later moved to Ann Arbor.

The church, a wooden structure, was replaced by a brick building seating 1,000 persons in 1838. That structure was destroyed by fire in 1854.

The problem is all the more difficult when, as in the case of the national police chief, the general is one of Ky's strongest personal supporters. Ky needs every one of his supporters in order to hold his own.

The problem goes back to the uneasy coalition which now rules South Viet Nam under Ky's leadership. Ky presides over the coalition, but the balance of power is so delicate in Saigon that if Ky lost this man's support his government might well fall.

This sifting out of poor men at U. S. suggestion was what caused the downfall of Premier Quat and the end of the last civilian government of Saigon.

Moreover, in some important ways the police chief is a genius upon whom Ky depends heavily. He developed and carried out the brilliant maneuvers which ended the recent revolt of the dissident Buddhist extremists.

Neither Ky nor his American advisers have a solution for this problem except to hold on will of one general, not off a precariously until there can be an election, which hopefully will provide a government and uphold safeguards of personal liberty.

ever heads the state will be able—with U. S. backing—to enforce reasonable government and uphold safeguards of personal liberty.

Deception in play is not limited to false-cards. An alert declarer will frequently create an illusion in an opponent's mind by an unusual discard.

If North and South had worked their way to three no-trump the favorable break in clubs would insure that contract but they arrived at four spades.

West opened the king of clubs and continued with the ace and queen. South had studied the hand carefully before playing to the first trick and he noted that his only reasonable play would be to try the heart finesse. If this worked he would have 10 easy tricks. If it failed he could deal the next hand.

Then he thought a little further. Maybe he could persuade West to lead a heart for him. When West followed up his king of clubs led with the ace and then the queen South was ready to encourage a shift to hearts. He discarded the deuce of hearts on the queen of clubs.

West found himself still on lead. He couldn't afford a lead of his last club. That would give South a chance to ruff in dummy and discard from his own hand. A diamond lead from the jack appeared dangerous. South might be holding a king-ten combination.

West should have shifted to a trump. It was very unlikely that this would cost his partner a trump trick but West was mesmerized by that heart discard. He led away from his king of hearts and South had found the way to his tenth trick.

TODAY'S QUESTION

If going to four clubs

East bids three no trump. What do you do now?

Answer Box 201

The Doctor Says: Ann Landers

This Is Truly The Year Of The Ear!

Dear Ann Landers: This is my middle 20's and so is my girl friend. We are very much in love.

My girl friend's mother says if I have any questions about when her daughter should be brought home from a date I should discuss it with her and she will set me straight. Since when is a young man supposed to talk over such things with his girl friend's mother?

Don't you feel that people in their middle 20's are old enough to decide for themselves when to come home from a date? We are adults and I think we should be treated like that in biblical times many men wear earrings.

Is there a law against men piercing their ears? (I hope so.) Please give me your views on this. I need help. — EAR YE

Dear Ear: Of course there is no law prohibiting men from piercing their ears. But I don't think your husband needs two more holes in his head. If he were a pirate, or a Spanish dancer — or living in biblical times — his desire for earrings would fit in with the culture. But for here and now he'd better forget it — unless, of course, he likes to fight.

You are right when you say this is the Year of the Ear. I have been deluged with all sorts of mail (most of it negative) ever since I announced in print that I had had my ears pierced. Now hear this:

—The most likely cause is seborrhea. The treatment is discussed in the preceding answer.

Q—Does dandruff a disease? How do you get rid of it?

A—A certain amount of scaling of the scalp is normal. When it is excessive and extends to the face and chest it is called seborrhea. For simple dandruff, frequent shampooing is all that is needed.

I find it extremely unsettling that a woman of your position and intelligence would mutilate herself for the sole purpose of inserting ornaments. Ear-piercing is medieval nonsense tantamount to tattooing and Ubangi lip-stretching.

Next I expect to hear you've put a bone through your nose. Shame on you. — DISAP.

Dear Disappointed: I know of few sights more unsettling than a drawer filled with single earrings — and I have one. Since I've had my ears pierced I have not lost an earring and if that's medieval nonsense, I'm in favor of it.

If we get much more affluent we won't be able to live beyond our incomes.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm in

People tend to be forgetful with age, which is the first thing women forget.

Newspapers used to print crime stories because obedience to the law was so common it wasn't news. Nowadays—we dunno.

Middle age is when you think a gal with something in her eye is winking at you.

If we get much more affluent we won't be able to live beyond our incomes.

Wise Little Girl Works In Office

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Every little girl yearns at some time to become a ballet dancer, a nurse, or a schoolteacher.

But the fact is that more and more wise little girls are growing up to become business secretaries.

For woman's place today is as much the office as it is the kitchen. One of the results of the continuing industrial revolution has been to put womanhood in a new seat of power — behind a typewriter.

Less than 100 years ago, women were almost as scarce in American business offices as gem pearls are in restaurant oysters.

"According to the 1870 census, there were just seven female office workers," says Earl Tiffany Jr., president of the Royal Typewriter Co. "Today there are approximately three million secretaries, stenographers and typists — and 98 per cent of them are women."

7 Million In Officers

Another source, Miss M.

Merle Law, president of the National Secretaries Association, agrees with Tiffany's figure of three million, but estimates the total number of U.S. women office workers in all jobs at seven million.

How did women come to this giant step? Some historians trace it back to the year 1881 when the YWCA started the first typing courses for women.

Year by year, women method-ically replaced men in office work just as in the fields the tractor replaced the horse.

Here are some statistics which may explain why so many little girls today are turning to secretarial work rather than becoming ballerinas, nurses or schoolteachers:

Says Tiffany: "Between 1955 and 1964, those earning $100 or more weekly increased from 5 per cent to more than 28 per cent. Top secretaries command salaries of $10,000."

Says Miss Law: "Salaries vary in different parts of the country, but secretaries to middle-management men average $97 per week, and secretaries to top-level management average $112 per week. But they range up to $17,400 a year and in one case, considering extra cash benefits, to $21,400."

Are Little Drawbacks

Says Tiffany: "This is one field in which age presents a minimum drawback to the older woman. More than half of the 'Miss Typewriters' of this country are married, and almost half are more than 40 years old."

Says Miss Law, with considerable pride: "A survey of our members showed that 32.8 per cent owned their own homes, a car and some stock shares."

The U.S. Department of Labor estimated that 200,000 more secretaries a year will be needed for the next decade—a prospect of two million new jobs.

This seems to take care of the futures of a lot of little girls.

But what about little boys?

A smart little boy right now might start going steady with some smart little girl who shows unusual aptitude for the typewriter. Later in life she could be a great big help to him in achieving a style of living to which he would like to become accustomed — that is, if she doesn't wed the boss's son.

Which costs more—oil heat or gas?

Gas does, if you now have oil heat equipment. Consider these things. You can pay hundreds of dollars to have a new gas heating system installed. Your pilot light can cost about $10 a year.

You can be penalized for late payment of monthly gas bills. You have none of these with oil. Besides, you get 4% less usable heat with gas per BTU purchased as compared with oil. Before you spend needlessly, compare. Call new Standard Oil Hot Line—the modern service that has revolutionized oil heating. Now as always—

You expect more from Standard and you get it!*

Bethany Plans Holiday Program, Tea Sunday

Bethany Lutheran Church Sprink and Mrs. John Backman are in charge of the program. Following the program will be a fellowship hour in the church parlors. Faith, Peace and Hope Circles with Mrs. Marcel Ashland, Miss Gladys Swanson and Mrs. Carl Wicklund, leaders, are making arrangements for the tea.

The public is invited to attend and enjoy this fellowship with the Bethany Lutheran Church Women.

There will be special music furnished by a youth choir of the church composed of Kathy Lindley, Terri Miller, Joanna Beck, Jill Baum, Terry Johnson, Becky Nyquist, Bonnie Sanvaren, Karen Johnson, Steve Moraco, John Hanson, Mike Sundstrom and Mark Chown.

Also featured on the program will be the Jones Brothers, a quartet from Aurora, Wis. The Jones Brothers won second place honors in the "Teen Talent Contest" sponsored by the twin cities of Iron Mountain and Kingford last year and they also won similar honors in a contest last June in Green Bay. The brothers, Nolan, Clifton, Lester, and Terry all attend Florence High School where they have won first place honors in local and state competition.

Don Aronson, organist, will provide special Christmas music as well as accompaniment to hymn singing.

Nurse Service Value Stressed By Association

The Delta District Nurses Association met at St. Francis Hospital recently. Sister Christina, O. S. F., and Sister Marie Cordis, O. S. F. were hostesses. The theme of discussion centered on economic security of the nurse and responsibility to the profession of nursing. It was agreed that nurses can no longer afford to remain at the bottom of the economic barrel and that the value of her services should be appreciated.

However, it was also generally felt that nurses should retain the capacity to direct nursing, and not allow non-nursing organizations the right of direction and negotiator powers for nurses. This will demand more individual initiative and responsibility from the nurse and her organization, and would prevent the possibility of nursing no longer being controlled by nurses for the safety of her patient and the professional advancement of nursing.

Miss Elizabeth Nelson gave a report of the Michigan Nurses Association convention, which she attended in October at Lansing.

The value of the head nurses conference to be conducted Dec. 1 at East Lansing was also discussed.

It was decided to hold the nurses annual Christmas party at the cottage in Hyde on Dec. 13. Further information can be obtained from any member of the district. All registered nurses in the area are welcome.

MRS. LYNDON JOHNSON and a former first lady, Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, sat side-by-side Monday night at a White House ceremony in the East Room. They attended a reception during which Mrs. Johnson received the first copy of "The Living White House," a book dealing with past and present presidential families. (AP Wirephoto)

Mrs. Johnson Hosts White House Party

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Roosevelt sons bruised throughout the holidays, recalled Miami Beach Mayor Elliott Roosevelt, one of those five sons.

The christening of granddaughter Mary Jean in the Blue Room was the "very happy time" remembered by Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower.

And 90-year-old Madame Julia Cantacuzene, granddaughter of Ulysses S. Grant, said she was not only born in the White House, christened in the East Room, but "received in the Blue Room — in my nurse's arms."

It was all part of a homecoming party staged Monday afternoon by Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson to launch a new book out today — "The Living White House" — which she said provides revealing glimpses of the lives and times of the 34 families who occupied the White House since 1800.

Mrs. Johnson invited offspring and descendants of the former presidents. Some couldn't come. Rain kept others away. But there were 14 representatives of the presidential families of Grover Cleveland, U.S. Grant, William H. Taft, Benjamin Harrison, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Dwight D. Eisenhower on hand among 250 guests for the festivities in the state rooms.

The Eisenhowers were the largest contingent. There was former First Lady Mamie, daughter-in-law, Mrs. John S. Eisenhower and three granddaughters, Barbara Anne, 17, Susan, 14, and Mary Jean, 10.

The age span of the presidential guests was from 10 to 90.

The nostalgic stories ranged from snowball fights to the bivouacking of Civil War Union troops on the parquet floors of the East Room, where Abigail Adams, the first occupant, once hung out her family wash.

Mrs. Johnson received the first copy of the new book from Melville Bell Grosvenor, editor of the National Geographic, which published it as a public service.

Irish Boost Lead In College Ratings

By The Associated Press
It's Notre Dame by a more solid first-place margin over Michigan State while Alabama is a stronger third in The Associated Press' next-to-last major college football poll of the 1966 season.

The Fighting Irish moved in front by 34 points this week after finishing their season with a smashing 51-0 conquest of Rose Bowl-bound Southern California. Notre Dame led the second-ranked Spartans by only three points a week ago after the teams battled to a 10-10 tie in Michigan State's final game. The No. 1 and No. 2 teams each finished with a 9-1 record.

Alabama, the defending national champion and the only major team with an unbeaten, unbeatened record, trails Notre Dame by 78 points and Michigan State by 44. A week ago, the Crimson Tide was 88 points behind the Irish and 86 behind the Spartans.

The Tide rolled over Southern Mississippi 34-0 for their ninth victory last Saturday. The final poll will be taken next week after Alabama completes its regular season by playing Auburn at Birmingham, Ala., this Saturday.

In the latest balloting by a national panel of 52 sports writers and broadcasters, Notre Dame collected 505 points while Michigan State had 471 and Alabama 427.

The Irish were given sole possession of first place by 35 voters while five others put them in a tie for the top spot with Michigan State. The Spartans were given undisputed ranking by only five voters.

Each team received 10 points on a tie ballot with the rest of the points distributed on the regular basis of 9 for a second place vote, 8 for third 7 for fourth etc. Two selectors placed Notre Dame and Michigan State in a second-place tie while making Alabama No. 1.

In all, Notre Dame received 40 votes for first place, nine for second and three for third. Michigan State drew 10 first-place votes, 36 for second place, five for third and one for fourth.

Alabama collected seven votes for the opposition, three for second, 37 for third, four for fourth, and one for fifth.

Georgia, UCLA, Nebraska, Purdue, Georgia Tech, Miami of Florida and Southern Methodist complete the Top Ten in that order.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points:

1. Notre Dame (40)	505
2. Michigan St. (10)	471
3. Alabama (7)	427
4. Georgia	336
5. UCLA	286
6. Nebraska	203
7. Purdue	194
8. Georgia Tech	159
9. Miami, Fla.	62
10. Southern Methodist	45

Pizarro and Belinsky, both 29-year-old left-handed pitchers, were in the spotlight Monday as baseball's annual winter meetings got under way.

Belinsky, whose weakness possibly has been as much good time as it has bad pitching, went to the Astros for $25,000 in the player draft, and several hours later Pizarro became the first player to be involved in a deal at the meetings. The Pirates bought him from the Chicago White Sox for an undisclosed amount.

"We watched Pizarro last summer, and we think he can help us," said Manager Harry Walker, whose Pirates just missed winning the National League pennant because of weak pitching. "He's still young enough to come back. He still can throw."

Pizarro won 18 games for the White Sox in 1964 but has won just 14 in the two seasons since then. His problem has been arm trouble.

The big question about Belinsky is whether his problem has been his pitching in public or his pitching in private.

Possessor of a no-hitter in his first major league season, 1962, the fun-loving Belinsky was placed on the disqualified list for a month and a half in 1963, after a squabble with the California Angels, then suspended and placed on the disqualified list again in 1964 after another baseball season.

During the 1962 season, Wills

stole 104 bases. But last season, hampered by his leg injury, the 34-year-old shortstop stole only 38 bases and was caught stealing 24 times.

Pizarro won 18 games for the White Sox in 1964 but has won just 14 in the two seasons since then. His problem has been arm trouble.

Curtis Cokes, the thin brown panther of the ring, successfully defended his world welterweight crown against short-armed Jean Josselin Monday night, then looked toward a title bout with lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz, who wants to move up.

Norm Levinson, promoter for the Dallas All-Sports Association, pointed to a $55,000 gate and 5,800 attendance for the Cokes-Josselin fight and said he wanted very much to stage a Cokes-Ortiz scrap in Dallas.

Josselin never had a chance against the superior height and reach of Cokes, 29-year-old Dallas Negro with a goatee. Cokes piled up the points with a vicious jab, a wicked left hook and thunderous uppercuts.

Josselin, a Frenchman, was praised for his courage and durability but he really took a one-sided beating.

Judge Nat Fleischer of New York had Cokes by seven points and Judge Morris Fair of Dallas had Cokes ahead by 10. Referee Dick Cole of Dallas gave it to Cokes by 13 points and The Associated Press saw it by 11 points for Cokes.

The little man from Besancon, France, had a bloody face from the ninth round on. But there was nothing resembling a knockout.

Jan. 15 At Coliseum?

Date, Site Considered For Super Bowl Classic

NEW YORK (AP) — The Los Angeles Coliseum and Sunday,

Jan. 15 are the likely site and date of the Super Bowl football game between the champions of the National and American

Football leagues.

If the Pro Bowl game, between all-star teams of the

NFL's two conferences, can be shifted from Jan. 15 to Jan. 22,

the two pro leagues are expected to move their first big game into the vast 110,000-seat Coliseum.

No decision has been made.

The Coliseum, Miami's Orange

Bowl, New Orleans' Sugar

Bowl and Houston's Astrodome are being considered, according to NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

A joint committee from the two leagues, with Commissioner

Rozelle as chairman, is making its recommendations to the two leagues at separate meetings.

A definite announcement is expected before the two pro

leagues end their meetings

Wednesday or Thursday.

Of primary importance to the members of the NFL is a discussion of realignment. With

New Orleans becoming the 16th team in 1967, the league will have 16 teams. They will be split into the same two Eastern and Western Conferences, with the West choosing between New Orleans and Atlanta as its eighth member. Baltimore would still remain in the West and St. Louis in the East.

Each conference will, in turn, be split into two four-club divisions. The make-up of those divisions is causing considerable discussion. Among the factors to be considered are weather, baseball park conflicts, traditional rivalries, geography, season ticket sale and business success, and competitive aspects (strong or weak teams).

Although nine applications for the New Orleans franchise have been received, Rozelle said he doubted if the name of the new owner would be announced at these meetings. Before an owner is selected, a purchase must be determined. No figure was announced when Atlanta was added earlier this year, but the figure of $8.5 million was published frequently.

Rozelle said there has been discussion of changing the date of the AFL game, now set for Monday, Dec. 26, in the home park of the Eastern winner.

"It probably would be better if both title games were played the same weekend," he said.

The NFL game is set for Sunday, Jan. 1 in the Eastern Conference winner's park.

Dodgers Ready To Trade Wills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —

The Los Angeles Dodgers said today they have placed shortstop Maury Wills in the trade mart partly — if not primarily — because he left the club during a tour of Japan.

"I don't know yet whether Wills will be traded," said Buzzie Bavasi, the Dodgers' general manager, "but if anybody makes a reasonable offer, of course, Wills would be one of the first we would trade."

Asked if Wills' failure to remain with the Dodgers during the recently completed exhibition tour of Japan had anything to do with the decision, Bavasi said:

"It's partly due to what Wills did."

What Wills did was leave the Dodgers early in the tour after being refused permission to do so by Walter O'Malley, the Dodgers' president. However, Wills had needed medical attention for his right knee.

In discussing Wills and the Dodgers' decision, Bavasi said he had spoken with O'Malley Monday night and they had decided to make Wills available.

Bavasi revealed that he already had told three clubs that Wills was available — the New York Yankees, Minnesota Twins and Atlanta Braves.

Bavasi, however, indicated there haven't been any firm offers that would make a deal imminent.

During the 1962 season, Wills

stole 104 bases. But last season, hampered by his leg injury, the 34-year-old shortstop stole only

38 bases and was caught stealing

MANISTIQUE

Armory Opened For Motorists In Heavy Storm

This is a story you should have read yesterday.

But, with the storm, long distance telephone service was out and data on the big post-Thanksgiving storm in the Manistique area could not get through earlier.

Perhaps the biggest handicap was experienced by Inland Lime and Stone Co. where crews were unable to report to work in the morning Monday. Some men, about eight, were unable to return to their homes after completing the 4 to 12-shift. Power off at the plant from midnight and was restored at 11 a.m., Monday.

Some officials of the company followed a snowplow in Monday morning to Port Inland. The plow went in a ditch a half mile from the plant in returning to U.S. 2 and the road quickly closed, leaving those who had gone out stranded at the plant.

Four buses with passengers were stalled on U.S. 2 near Gogebic City and an emergency plow was dispatched from Manistique to free them, following a call from the district high way office in Newberry.

A heavy snowfall which came on the heels of a rain downpour plugged roads and left little traction for vehicles with the ice layer beneath the snow. Up to 1 1/2 feet of snow were reported on roads.

For youngsters who delight in getting right in the snow, Monday was a great one, for all schools, including high school, was closed. It was a day for records, rabbit hunting in the sandhill areas outside the city, visiting and sledding.

The National Guard armory was opened at midnight Sunday, at the request of the State Police who needed extra space for stalled motor traffic. Motels were reported full. Some motorists were lodged at the jail and at the State Police post and in the armory. In the latter they slept on the floor, on tables and wherever a spot could be found. More than 200 used the armory during the storm. Couches were given to a couple girls who were slightly ill.

All the available coffee and hot chocolate was used serving the unexpected guests at the armory. About 80 per cent were students returning to colleges and universities after the Thanksgiving holiday. Wreckers were kept busy hauling stalled cars from the highway, chiefly between Manistique and St. Ignace.

A car driven by Ronald Soukup, 16, of Manistique rolled over on a curve on Duck Inn Road after the car began skidding, leaving blacktop and going onto gravel road, State Police report. Injured were Soukup, David Hewitt, Barry Varville, and James Stewart.

Harold C. Peterson, Indian Lake was given notice to appear by Safety Officers for failure to yield right of way following an accident at 3:20 p.m. Nov. 25. He pulled from a parked position on River St., into the side of a car driven by Armand LaSorsa, 320 S. Maple St., officers said.

The resolution said surplus funds in the treasury soon will be gone and called for new sources of income, "with citizens sharing their just portion of the costs."

They opposed "any form of deficit financing for government services."

Happy News In Supermarkets

By SALLY RYAN

NEW YORK (AP) — There is happy news in the supermarkets this holiday season.

Wholesale food prices have slowed their steady climb, and may ease the strain on the family food budget in the weeks ahead.

Last February, wholesale food prices were running 14.9 per cent higher than the previous year. This week they were up only .02 per cent.

Beef dropped this week, and so did bacon, butter and coffee. That is at the wholesale level. The lower prices may show up at retail stores this winter.

Some stores already have cut prices, so it pays to check advertised specials. Steak may be down one day and up a few days later.

Up and Down

A major supermarket chain in the New York area, for instance, cut the price of sirloin 30 cents a pound early this week and put it back up for Friday. But it cut pork chops 20 cents and leg of lamb 10 for the week-end.

Butter dropped 2 cents a pound this week in New York.

Pork prices are down again. Loins dropped 2 to 4 cents a pound on the West Coast this week. In Chicago, bacon is selling for 69 to 89 cents a pound, down 20 per cent in the last month.

Beef prices took a jump on the West Coast this week, with ribs up 4 to 5 cents a pound in Portland, Ore.

Broilers are down in the South.

Vegetables Up
Bad weather and rising labor costs have cut into the rest of the menu.

Frost damaged the Idaho potato crop in October, and hot dry weather shriveled crops in the Midwest and East. Hurricane Inez cut into plantings in southern Florida intended for harvest this winter.

What it adds up to is higher prices for peas, beans, tomato juice, onions, sweet potatoes, sauerkraut, lettuce and apples and grape-based juices.

But pears, cling peaches and fruit cocktail are down, along with carrots, canned salmon and cranberries. And so are citrus juices.

It looks like a huge crop of oranges this year.

Accountants Ask For Tax Reform

EAST LANSING (AP) — About 285 independent Michigan accountants, attending a tax clinic, agree that the legislature must reform Michigan's tax structure next year.

Their resolution said surplus funds in the treasury soon will be gone and called for new sources of income, "with citizens sharing their just portion of the costs."

They opposed "any form of deficit financing for government services."

State Employees To Get Pay Hike

The Michigan Civil Service Commission has been told that recommendations will be made with staff proposals on future pay out benefit of your views." rates for 38,000 state employees. DeWald in a telegram to will be ready Friday.

Robert Grosvenor, director of State Personnel Director, the Michigan State Employees Commission meeting that all "I am in receipt of your sign from staff pay studies which indicate the need of a general union to discuss the Union's views wage adjustment and it is simply a matter of how much of an adjustment."

"False Claim" Your reference to discussing wages covering 2,300 job classifications to hold a pay hearing on the fixations is absurd considering staff proposal Dec. 5 to obtain the fact that almost all of your reaction of employees, members are represented by state agency administrators, less than a dozen classes of interested parties prior to positions.

In view of your continued refusal to meet, it now appears that our staff pay recommendations will be made without benefit of your views.

"Will Raise Pay" The fourth opportunity for you to be heard will be at the Commission's hearing on the staff pay recommendations Dec. 5 in the Lansing Civic Center prior to the time the Commission makes its final decision on the pay plan."

On Nov. 10, the Department of Civil Service accused the Union of making a "totally false claim to its membership, indicating the Commission had refused to meet with Union representatives on wage and fringe benefit matters" and released copies of correspondence agreeing to such a meeting last October.

Two-Year-Olds Have Tooth Decay

Detroit (AP) — Many 2-year-old children have tooth decay and if untreated it can lead to serious problems when permanent teeth grow in, an expert in children's dentistry said here.

Dr. John R. Mink, chairman of the department of pedodontics at the University of Kentucky, spoke to the 25th annual dental review of the Detroit Dental Society.

"Either parents don't know that decay can start that early or they think baby teeth aren't important," he said.

Early detection and treatment during childhood, he said, is a major factor in good dental health during adult life.

If the baby teeth are injured or decayed, Dr. Mink said, it can lead to poor alignment of permanent teeth, sometimes severe enough to distort the face.

Washington's Home Town's Face Lifted

By JOHN KOENIG JR.

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — George Washington's home town is undergoing its biggest face lifting since the days when the first president owned acreage in the center of the city.

Government and private enterprise are teaming to give this historic northern Virginia city a new 18th century look.

On almost every street of "Old Town," the section near the Potomac River, across from Washington, D.C., old houses are being restored either by individual owners or development firms.

Supplementing this work is construction by private builders of new rows of Colonial style townhouses which blend in readily with the authentic old homes.

But the largest project was given its initial shove by the federal government's urban renewal program.

Most of two large city blocks of outmoded commercial buildings along King Street, the main shopping artery, were demolished under work financed with federal funds.

were Alexandria's old City Hall and Gadsby's Tavern, regarded by some as America's greatest 18th century inn.

These two examples of earlier

Alexandria architecture are being used as the core of a new cluster of brick buildings forming a modern shopping center with Colonial decor.

Adjacent to City Hall will be a park, to be known as the Market Square. Underground will be parking space for hundreds of cars.

Alexandria's civic, political and business leaders say the city has potential as a prime tourist area.

They cite these as among the sights, Alexandria, has to show

the visitor:

Christ Church, from which

George Washington was buried;

Gadsby's Tavern, where he dined and danced; the Fitzhugh-

Lee House, boyhood home of Robert E. Lee.

The northeastern shore of Maine is 83 miles east of the Florida city of Jacksonville.
